HERITAGE PARK

Calgary, Alberta, Canada

Heritage Park, opened to the public on July 1, 1964, was initially made possible by grants from the Wood's Foundation and the City of Calgary. The park is located on a sixty acre peninsula jutting into Glenmore Reservoir in Southwest Calgary and is jointly administered by the City and the Heritage Park Society.

The Park represents an authentic portrayal of life in Western Canada prior to 1914. To maintain this authenticity, buildings and artifacts have been brought in from many parts of Western Canada. Exhibits are the result of donations by corporations, individuals and Government and the Glenbow-Alberta Institute.

Heritage Park, a registered charity, is dedicated to those people who settled the West and, through the determination and generosity of concerned citizens, will continue to be a living memorial to those pioneers.

Embark on a leisurely cruise on beautiful Glenmore Lake in this typical early paddle steamer reconstructed on a smaller scale from authentic plans. The Moyie leaves every thirty five minutes.

THE CANMORE OPERA HOUSE

Old-time entertainment is livelier than ever at one of Alberta's first opera houses. See the notice board daily, throughout the year, for schedules and prices.

THE BOWNESS CAROUSEL

Ride one of the biggest attractions at the fairs in the early days. Gaily painted horses gallop merrily around to the magical sounds of calliope music.

THE CLARESHOLM GENERAL STORE

Shop here for penny candy, cheese and crackers, or apples and oranges. The children will love this store!

THE ALBERTA BAKERY

The aroma of freshly-baked, country-style bread is tempting indeed. Buy a loaf or two. The flour is stone-ground in the Heritage Park Bakery.

THE POST OFFICE

Send a souvenir post card with a special Heritage Park cancellation stamp on it from this old post office built in 1909.

THE CURIO SHOP

Browse through counters loaded with curios and souvenirs. Buy one or two as a reminder of your "visit" to the Old Canadian West at Heritage Park.

SNACKS AND ICE CREAM

Pause for some hot dogs, ice cream or other goodies. There's a snack bar nearby anywhere in the Park — at the Main Gate, Wainwright Hotel, Shepard Station, the Millarville Ranchers' Hall and, on special days, at the Gunn Barn.

STRATHMORE AND BOW VALLEY STANDARD

Extra! Extra! Read All About It! Get your copy of Heritage Park's Strathmore and Bow Valley Standard now being sold in the Park.

PICNIC AREAS
